Power Climber Wind Launches New Website

SEATTLE/BRUSSELS—Power Climber Wind, a division of SafeWorks LLC, the world leader and pioneer in powered access solutions for over 60 years, announced the launch of a newly designed company website - www.powerclimberwind.com. The new design provides users with improvements in content, search, navigation, appearance and accessibility.

With more informative content, additional collateral including video links, wind turbine generator OEMs, wind plant owners and service providers are now able to find needed information more quickly and easily.

"Power Climber Wind is investing in the tools that help users evaluate and more productively deploy our lift and access solutions. The site's new approach drives a better experience for our partners, to improve their work at height," comments Liz Callahan, Vice President Marketing.
